Sarah Von Keller
Nifty Vintage

Sarah came to fall in love with the style of the 1950's: bright colors, sleek designs and all things kitsch. Her wide ranging inventory includes vintage housewares, clothing, glassware, furniture, decor and much more!

Timothy Ramsey
Rock-It

From a young age, Tim has been fascinated with fine musical instruments, especially guitars and amplifiers as well as with toy musical instruments, trains and slot cars. This later translated into Tim's becoming an avid collector of vintage musical instruments and amplifiers and toys, many of which are space race related, from the 1950s and 1960s. He is now offering his treasures here for sale.

Cindi Ryland

Retropolitan, SHC Manager

believes that we express ourselves with FASHION – in the form of what we wear and the furniture and accessories we surround ourselves with in our home environments. Cindi's eclectic collection includes true vintage clothing and accessories and Art Deco, Arts and Crafts and Mid Century Modern furniture and décor.

Erica Kagan

The Welsh Bohemian

A 70s child at heart, Erica carefully curates her vintage collection filled with fringe, patchwork, sequins and prints that blend the perfect mix of beautiful bohemian with renegade rockstar. It is Erica's hope that wearing sustainable, unique vintage clothing will not only help us in preserving our environment but will also empower the wearer to reach new levels of self expression and confidence.

Bill Diggs

is a professionally trained artist (MICA), with interests ranging from nature scenes to historical themes, particularly portraits of Native Americans. His painting style is realistic with a personal touch. He is retired from a career in graphic design and illustration.

Rachel Dunnigan

Rachel's Vintage

As a free-spirited creative born and raised in Baltimore, MD., Rachel loves to turn vintage and antique furniture into fully functional works of art. To totally transform something drab into a one-of-a-kind treasure is her passion. She paints to decompress and self-express. Rachel uses textures, layers, and beautiful bright colors on ornate furniture full of character and history. She truly believes that what we surround ourselves within our homes should speak to us positively, brings us joy and comfort. Custom orders are welcome: please inquire for details.

Jen Motley

Lynn Lane Design

Furniture artisan & Dixie Belle Paint Company Retailer, Jen loves the idea of breathing new life into furniture from the past and transforming them into statement pieces for your home and for the next generation. Custom work welcomed!

Cheryl Taylor

CT Textiles

has recently begun sewing again and has been playing with modern quilting, improvisation, bold graphics, color and over stitching. She has always been drawn to textiles, including the work of the women of Gee's Bend, Native American weavers, Amish quilters and mixing old and new. She borrows inspiration from the world around her, to which she tries to keep her eyes and mind open and pays special thanks to her grandmother who taught her to sew so long ago. Cheryl uses new and recycled fabric in her work, most often cotton. For Cheryl, the act of hand stitching is meditative.
